The Magic of Thinking Differently

Dan Trommater – Chief Engagement Officer

We tend to get caught in the ‘same-think’ rut. We approach problems over and over from the same perspective, then wonder why we fail to solve them. That's where Dan Trommater can help. His interactive presentation will challenge your assumptions through the use of magic, optical illusions and stories. You'll learn practical tools to shift your perspective and change the way you interact with those around you. It's a thought-provoking presentation that will help you build your empathy and problem solving abilities. Plus, it's a lot of fun!
